Dedication

To a man of T.J.C., to an Apache whose pounding footfalls each year sound the notes of defeat to the rivals of T.J.C., to a coach who by his personal example of cleanliness and sportsmanship has sought and achieved the end of proving the flash of the Black and Gold a signal for a fight against any odds—to him, FLOYD WAGSTAFF, we dedicate this APACHE of 1951.

H. E. JENKINS, PRESIDENT

TYLER, TEXAS

March 5, 1951

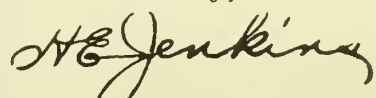

TO THE STUDENTS OF TYLER JUNIOR COLLEGE:

May I congratulate you, who are the student personnel of the Tyler Junior College, upon the record which you have made during the year and the contributions which you have made to the continued progress of the college.

Already this institution has assumed a place of leadership and importance in the system of higher education in Texas, as well as a prominent place among the junior colleges of the nation.

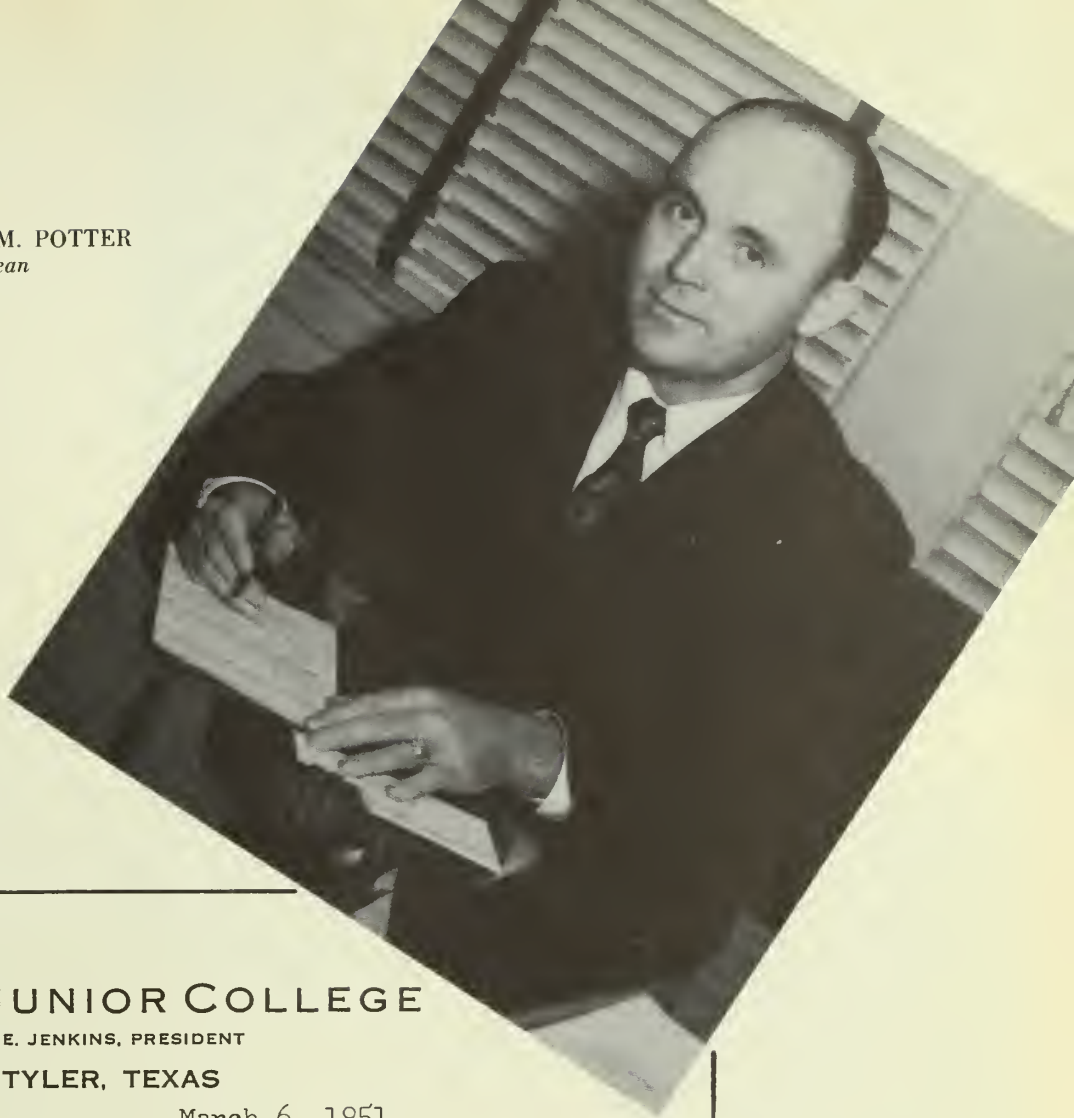

To you, the students, I express the appreciation of the Board of Trustees and the college faculty, as well as my own. The junior college movement is the "wave of the future." You will always be proud of your part in the development of this new institution, a part of the national junior college movement.

Sincerely,

H. E. Jenkins, President
Tyler Junior College

OFFICE OF THE DEAN

TYLER, TEXAS

March 6, 1951

TO THE STUDENTS OF T.J.C.:

In these days of international tension when the storm clouds of war hang loweringly on the horizon, and when many around us are losing their heads, it gives me a feeling of pride to see the great majority of our students continuing steadily toward their educational objectives.

Each student should be calm in his assurance that in so acting he is fitting himself not only for greater service to himself, but also to his country.

Let each of us rededicate our energies and our lives, if need be, in order that our way of life may be perpetuated.

My best wishes to each of you,

Edward M. Potter

Mr. Raleigh Leatherman

Dear Mr. Leatherman:

I've always known there were more Texas-born beauties in Hollywood than from any other state, and sort of wondered how come? The matter now is no longer a mystery to me. After seeing all those lovely faces in the pictures you sent me of the girls of Tyler Junior College it's evident that every Texas girl is pretty.

Which, as you may guess, made my job as beauty judge for the Apache Year Book something less than a breeze. Looking at the pictures was a pleasure; selecting the one-two-three winners has taken a lot of pondering. The final result:

1. Anne King
2. Nela Greenhaw
3. Gloria Jennings

My thanks to the editors of the Apache Year Book, and to all the contestants, for asking me to be judge. It's been fun.

With every good wish,

Sincerely,

Farley Granger
